Article 1. Definitions

In these general terms and conditions the following terms are defined as set forth below:

1. "contractor": Perfect Sky B.V.
2. "client": any other party with whom the contractor has reached a verbal agreement which is recorded in writing (also see paragraph 3.5)
3. agreement
 - a. document, i.e agreement, signed for by contractor and client;
 - b. quotation issued by the contractor, signed for by the client;
 - c. order confirmation issued by the contractor and signed for by the client

Article 2. Applicability

These General Terms and Conditions are applicable to all offers, supplies and performances and every agreement between contractor and client whereupon these terms are applicable, and as far as no exceptions have been explicitly made by contractor and client.

Article 3. Quotations

1. Quotations issued by the contractor are non-binding; they are valid for 14 days, unless otherwise indicated.
2. Unless otherwise indicated, the prices stated in the offer are exclusive of VAT and any other costs such as costs of energy, transport and insurance.
3. If a quotation is based upon the information issued by the client, the contractor may presume the correctness of this information.
4. Every offer is based upon normal conditions and normal working hours, unless expressly stated otherwise.
5. A quotation is only binding for the contractor when explicitly confirmed for in writing.

Article 4. Rental and construction agreements

1. The contract for rental and construction will be achieved when both parties agree upon all matters, dates of availability, the nature and extend of the activities and the rental price for the materials and services and which is confirmed by contractor in writing.
2. If the rented materials cannot be dismantled as per planning after expiry of the rental period, the contractor is entitled to charge the client for each hour by which the agreed time limit is exceeded with the current price per hour for rent and personnel costs.
3. The client is under the obligation to protect the rented materials from soiling and chemical influences other than weather conditions during the rental period. In case materials need to be cleaned by contractor or need to be replaced, cost of cleaning or cost of replacement will be charged. The replacement costs can add up to significant amounts. The client is advised to include this in the Insurance.
4. Perfect Sky and accessories:
 - a) If a Perfect Sky with any accessories must be placed by contractor, the client will provide with the exact position, condition and all equipment of the area underneath the Perfect Sky, which will be included in the order confirmation.
 - b) In case of abundant snowfall and icing the client is committed to install heaters to guarantee complete defrost.
 - c) The client will not set off, or have any third parties set off any fireworks within a radius of 250 metres from the Perfect Sky. Open fire (including fire-breathing) underneath the Perfect Sky, as well as sparks from open fire need to be avoided by the client. (Fireworks debree, or sparks and fireworks left overs may never reach the Perfect Sky. The client will compensate contractor for any damage caused by fireworks)

Article 5. Cancellation

If a contract is completely or partially cancelled by the client, the client is obliged to pay a compensation to the contractor according to the following scheme:

- a) in case of cancellation more than one month before the agreed construction date, the client is obliged to pay for all costs incurred plus 25% of the rental price.
- b) if cancelled within one month before the agreed Construction date the client is obliged to pay for all costs incurred plus 50% of the rental price.

When all rented materials have already been delivered, the client is obliged to pay the complete rental price.

Article 6. Realisation of the agreement

1. The contractor will execute an agreement to the best of his knowledge and ability and in accordance with the requirements of good craftsmanship.
2. To the extent of a proper realisation of the agreement, the contractor has the right certain activities to be carried out by third parties.
3. The client shall ensure that all data necessary for the realisation of the agreement, will be provided to the contractor in due time. If the necessary information is not provided in a timely manner the contractor has the right to suspend the realisation of the agreement and/or charge the client with the additional costs resulting from the delay. Please see also paragraph 7 of this article.
4. During the construction and dismantling of the Perfect Sky the construction location should be clean and free of other buildings, or the contractor should be informed about these buildings well in advance. Stages and tents can be installed after prior written consent of the contractor.
5. Acceleration, delays and waiting times upon construction or dismantling caused by, or under the responsibility of the organisation, will be charged to the organisation against the general applicable hour rates.
6. If not otherwise strongly agreed in writing, the construction location should be accessible and easy to reach and passable for heavy traffic such as heavy cranes, trucks and forklifts. In case of unpaved terrain the client should have a special terrainheftruck (ie. forklift with Caterpillar tracks) available if necessary.
7. The client is obliged to inform the contractor in writing in a timely manner about the course and location of all pipes such as gas supply pipelines, drains and power stations. For incorrect or non-provided information, the client shall be fully liable for all damage and consequential damage resulting from this negligence. The contractor is entitled to use alternative anchoring in case no information is provided, for which the costs shall be charged to the client. To this end, the contractor is also entitled when the location of the pipes and drains referred prevent a save construction. The contractor is also entitled to install alternative anchoring (e.g. by means of ballast) for which the costs shall be charged to the client.
8. Client is under the obligation to provide for a construction location free of unauthorised persons and public at the time of construction and dismantling. Monitoring, security and Insurance are the responsibility of the client.

Article 7. Modification of the agreement

If during the realisation of the agreement appears necessary for a proper realisation to change or complete the work performed, the parties shall adjust the agreement accordingly in good time and by mutual agreement. (If desired by either of the parties this will be recorded in writing.)

Article 8. Time of delivery

The agreed delivery time is not of the essence and is specified as precisely as possible. Exceeding the delivery time gives no right to compensation, suspension or dissolution of the agreement. Refusal of acceptance by the client of an according to reasonable standards realized completion does not relieve the client from its obligations arising from the agreement. All related costs shall be borne by the client.

Article 9. Guarantee

1. The validity of the goods delivered and processed is guaranteed by the contractor, except that on delivered materials, as far as materials are involved by third parties, there is no more or less guarantee given than is given by the supplier / manufacturer to the contractor.
2. In case of a design, material or manufacturing defect, the client is entitled to recovery. The client is only entitled to replacement if recovery is no longer possible.
3. The guarantee obligations expire immediately:
 - if damage is the result of incorrect treatment or if client carries out, or instructs repairs of changes to be made to the materials involved;
 - if the client does not meet its payment obligations.
4. Outside of the warranty:
 - small, in the line of business customary or technical unavoidable deviations in quality, color, shape and such that do not affect the solidness;
 - damage caused by activities not supplied by or executed on behalf of the contractor;
 - damage caused as a result of temporary or lasting harmful changes of the environment. These include aswell damage caused by violent storm and/or rainfall.

Article 10. Intellectual property

1. Contractor reserves all rights and competencies owing to the Copyright Act. All rights on provided designs, sketches, illustrations, models, software and quotations remain the property of the contractor, regardless of whether relevant costs have been changed to the client.
2. All documents provided by the supplier, such as reports, advice, designs, sketches, drawings, software etc. are intended to be used by the client regarding the Perfect Sky and may not be reproduced, brought to the attention of third parties or made public without prior consent of the contractor. This does not apply if and insofar as this concerns matters that are meant only to be disclosed to third parties.
3. When giving an order for reproduction of industrial property right protected by the Copyright Act or any industrial ownership protected objects, the contractor declares there is no infringement of this right of third parties and the client is indemnified in and out of court for alle the consequences, both tangible and intangible.

Article 11. Dissolution of the agreement

1. The claims of the contractor to the client are immediately due and payable in the following cases:
 - a) if the contractor has requested for a standing security for the follow up of the agreement and this security is not provided for or not enough is given
 - b) if, after the conclusion of the agreement the contractor learns about circumstances which give founded reasons to fear that the client will not meet its obligations
2. In the mentioned situations, the contractor shall be entitled to suspend further performance of the contract, or to dissolve the agreement, without prejudice to the right of the contractor to claim damages.
3. If circumstances arise in relation to persons and/or material from which the contractor commits itself to operate upon on the realisation of the agreement, which are of such a nature the the realisation of the agreement becomes impossible or to such a degree objectionable or disproportionately expensive, that reasonable compliance of the agreement can no longer be required, the contractor is entitled to dissolve the agreement.
